ECLIPSED LAST YEAR'S SUCCESS!

Every Condition Contributed to Make the Masons Second Annual Barbecue a Big Event.

FOUR THOUSAND PEOPLE IN ATTENDANCE.

The barbecue given Thursday in Skillman's Grove, just east of the city, by Cloverport Lodge No. 133 F. & A. was a big event in every respect, and eclipsed the success of the Masons First Annual Barbecue of last year. Every condition contributed to its success and a more suitable day for the affair could not have been selected. Conservative estimates of the attendance placed it between three and four thousand and the number of out-of-town people who came was decidedly greater than it was last year. Everybody seemed to be having a good time and not afraid to spend their money. The best of order was preserved by Marshal Willis and a force of deputies. The day was clear and bright. The Masons took in a big sum of money and were much pleased with the success of the day. The merchants did a big business throughout the day and were pleased, too. The people who attended the barbecue returned to their homes contented with the enjoyment of the day and hoping they would have the opportunity to attend the Masons Third Annual Barbecue next year.

THE PEOPLE WHO CAME.

People from the country back of the city began to arrive as early as 7 o'clock in the morning and by 10 o'clock the vacant lots near the barbecue grounds were literally covered with vehicles of every description. The 9:45 east-bound passenger train over the Henderson Route brought about two hundred people from Skillman, Hawesville, Cannelton and other points below here on both sides of the Ohio. The Cannelton Commercial Band, also, came on this train. The band made a fine appearance in their green uniforms and, after marching through town, went to the barbecue grounds where, throughout the day, it delighted the big crowds with a continuous concert of popular airs.

The excursion over the branch from Fordville came between 10 and 11 o'clock with about 800 people. The five coaches were full and so crowded was the train that many rode on the steps and between the cars and on the coal tender. Immediately following the train was the 10:10 west-bound passenger train. On it came Col. Morris B. Belknap, Republican nominee for Governor and another crowd of people who could not find room on the excursion train. In a private car were Sept. McCracken, of the Henderson Route, and others from Louisville.

THE DINNER.

The larger part of the crowd that came on the morning trains and drove into town went to the barbecue grounds, on reaching the city. Nearly 3,000 took dinner on the grounds. The meals, which were prepared by those famous caterers, Hill John Beavis and Uncle Dick Carter, were excellently cooked and nicely served.

FIELD SPORTS AND CONTESTS.

In the afternoon the races, baby show and other contests took place, as advertised. These attracted much attention and required most of the afternoon.

THE RACES.

At 2:35 o'clock the races began. The spectators had previously taken their positions to see the field sports and were eager for them to begin. The first race, a 50-yard dash, was won by Joe Champion, of Tointon, Ind. Mr. Champion was well known as the fastest runner in this section of the country and the result of the race was not a surprise. The prize for the winner was a pair of fine shoes, given by F. Fraize. The second race, a 50-yard dash for boys under sixteen years of age, was won by Vivian Pierce, of this city. He easily distanced his opponents and was given a target rifle by Conrad, Payne & Co.

The potato race and the sack race attracted a good deal of attention and enthusiasm. In the potato race Fred Newton, of this city, was the first to place all his potatoes in the sack and received 50 pounds of Golden Crown Flour from Oelze & Pate. Little Fred Pierce was the victor in the sack race over nine other entries, who were all older boys. At the first few steps most of the runners tumbled over, setting the spectators roaring with laughter. When two-thirds of the course was covered Fred was in the lead and, without ever falling, won, amid great enthusiasm.

THE SOAPED POLE.

About the time the races began somebody attempted to climb the soaped pole, at the top of which J. C. Noite & Bro. had placed a $5.00 pair of shoes, to be given to the winner. A dozen men and boys, amid cheers of enthusiasm and much laughter, made unsuccessful attempts to reach the coveted shoes. Each one in turn would, by hard efforts, get a third of the way up and then slide to the ground in despair. Finally the successful climber, H. Blair, of near this city, reached the shoes and won the prize of the interested and amused spectators. After several had tried to climb the pole it was thought best to lower the shoes a few feet from the top. When this was done Mr. Blair climbed higher than anyone else and got the shoes. The climbing of the soaped pole was one of the most interesting attractions of the day and drew the attention of everybody on the grounds.

THE BABY SHOW.

After the field sports the baby show took place. The limit was eight months and the babies were exhibited on the band stand before three judges and hundreds of spectators. The first prize, a solid gold ring given by W. B. Oelze, was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Stevens' little daughter, of this city, and the second prize, a bottle of perfume, given by A. R. Fisher, was taken by Mr. and Mrs. James E. Buckley's twin children.

BEST PRESERVED OLD LADY.

W. T. Tilford, as was announced on the program, was to crown the contest with the best preserved old lady. A new hat, but no candidate for that honor could be found. The best preserved old lady was decided by the judges to be Mrs. John McGavock, of near this city. Mrs. McGavock was presented with a wreath of gold spectacles by Shelt & Hayes.

POPULARITY CONTESTS.

The contest to decide who was the most popular young lady and the most popular farmer on the grounds aroused much interest. The Bank of Cloverport had a booth for the first contest and the Breckenridge Bank for the last. Each one cent paid at either booth entitled the voter to one vote. Miss Mamie DeHaven received the highest number of votes in the most popular young lady contest and John McGavock in the most popular farmer contest. To Miss DeHaven was given $5.00 in gold by the Bank of Cloverport and Mr. McGavock received $5.00 in gold from the Breckenridge Bank. The total receipts in each contest were donated to Cloverport Lodge No. 133 F. & A. M.

THE RUNABOUT RACE.

"A $100 runabout for 25 cents!" This was one of Chase Moorman's favorite spels. Lead pencils were sold at 25 cents each, the purchaser drew a numbered ticket and his name was placed next to that number. The tickets were placed in a rotary "churn" and shaken up. Miss Donali Murray was then blind-folded and drew ticket number 971 from the churn. Jas. E. Buckley had previously purchased this ticket and was given the handsome runabout.

THE END OF THE FUN.

The various contests were over about 5 o'clock and then the merry-making crowd began to leave. The excursion train left on its return trip and Col. Belknap and other Louisville people left on the regular afternoon train. The Cannelton Commercial Band did not leave until the 7:35 evening train, and rendered an excellent selection just before the train pulled into the depot.

NOTES.

Candidates galore. Hardinsburg turned out in force. Are you coming again next year? Did you get any confetti—in your mouth? Half a dozen barrels of ice water didn't last long. It will be a green spot in the memory of all present.

Skillman's Grove is voted the ideal place for a barbecue. The hot chocolate and hot coffee stand did a good business.

Remember the Masons Third Annual Barbecue next year. People were here from every town in this section of the State. Whistling pigs, confetti and the voices of the bakers kept the air alive.

Everything on the grounds was sold down to the last box of pop-corn. Signs everywhere. Ed. Greagory put them up and the merchants got the trade.

The Masons were white caps and their wives and daughters were dainty white aprons. Mayor Reid made a fine appearance in his white suit and was pursued by the camera fiend.

Who enjoyed the barbecue the most?—Why those who sat side by side upon the big hill. Glendene turned out beautifully. More than a hundred came in on the excursion and many by land.

The big ice cream stand in the center of the grounds drew a large patronage. Seventy gallons of cream were sold.

The county candidates were easily recognized by their excellent photographs in J. D. Babbage, Jr. program and souvenir.

The Masons presided at the lemonade, banana and pop stands and their sisters, wives and daughters daintily served ice cream, lemonade, candies, fruits, etc.

Hundreds of bags of confetti were bought and thrown in handfuls by the crowd, no one caring who the victim was and everybody laughing when a good throw was made.

Prof. Bert Beavin's Great Afro-American minstrel show drew the crowd. It could be seen half a mile. Prof. Beavin's coat; it could be heard all over the grounds—his spelling for his show.

Col. Belknap, with a pleasant smile and a good word for everybody, was entertained by Capt. J. H. Rowland and introduced to scores of prominent Republicans of the county. He showed himself to be a man of the people and made many friends during the day.

The Hon. D. C. Moorman, Democratic nominee for Representative, Matt F. Payne, Republican nominee for Representative, W. S. Ball, Republican nominee for Circuit Clerk and Tom J. Moore, Democratic nominee for Circuit Clerk—all were there shaking hands and making friends.

The program and souvenir for the Masons Second Annual Barbecue, published and given away by J. Babbage, Jr. proved of great convenience to those interested in the contests and field sports, and of much value, as it showed where, best invest your money in Cloverport.

W. B. Oelze drew the crowd and the trade by having photographs on the grounds and displaying big signs. The barbecue grounds made a beautiful appearance with the big crowd in holiday attire and the white signs and the refreshment stands against the background of the dark green shade trees and hills.

Pete Schmuck, an old timer, who lived here in the sixties, and now resides in Little Rock, Ark., was on the grounds greeting old friends and having the time of his life. Said he was awfully glad to get back to the old town once more and to shake the hands of his may old friends. Pete is a little grey but is a well preserved man for his age.

Confetti is great sport. What's the matter with the Masons? A wagon-load of light bread on the dinner tables. No more beautiful grounds anywhere for a barbecue. Never did grey-haired men and grey-haired women enjoy themselves more.

Louis Ashley said he come over especially to shake hands with Col. Belknap. It was the remark of everybody that it was the finest looking body of people and the best humored they ever saw.

El Dean, Jesse Moorman and Fred Owen were some more old-timers that were present and enjoying the day. Prof. Powell, of Tointon, said it was the finest looking and most orderly crowd of people he ever saw together.

The Masons are all happy. They had a good time and the credit side of their bank account shows about $500 to the letter. Jim Buckley's twin ladies were among the special attractions. Two beautiful little girls and as much alike as two peas.

Alex Hambleton was another old timer who has all smiles and having a good time. He met many old acquaintances whom he had not seen in years.

Jerry Tilford is an ideal conductor. He can handle a crowd with as much ease and as good naturedly as any man. Handling an excursion train is no easy job.

When the community, the railroad and the newspaper get in touch with each other and all work together they can make anything a success. Cooperation is the key note of success.

There were more than a hundred visitors came over on the special from Fordville. Many of them had not been here before in years. They all went home delighted with their trip.

There were seven hundred and fifty people came in on the excursion from the branch. A nice, quiet, orderly crowd, and as fine looking people as ever the sun shined on. They all love Cloverport and never miss an opportunity to visit the old town.

It was an old-fashioned reason for many of the old citizens who had not met each other for years. To a reporter for The Herald a trainmaster at the Seventh street depot said last evening that never in the history of the Middle West had there been such a large crowd of people during the last summer, and gave the high tide of prosperity at present enjoyed by the country as the cause. "Last Thursday," he said, "a memorable week-day record was established when an excursion train over the Henderson Route carried 296 people from Fordville to Cloverport—Monday's Louisville Herald. L. J. Irwin, G. P. A., of the Henderson Route, Mr. McCracken, Mrs. Bullitt and Misses Alice Coombs and Adine G. Ditto accompanied. Supt. McCracken on his private car.

Sunday-Schools Rewarded

For Good Work.

DELEGATES TO THE CONVENTION

Guston, Ky., Aug. 25.—(Special.)—The State Sunday-school Convention adjourned in Lexington Thursday evening, after the most successful session ever held in the history of Kentucky. The noble band of volunteer soldiers for Christ, the cream of the State, thrilled the audience with brief accounts of work done and the great international workers, who had traveled many miles to attend, spoke words of cheer and encouragement. One of the most striking things was the great number of men and women, busy in their secular vocations, who told of marvelous work done by them in the Sunday-school cause. One young merchant, who had a small room, and as a kind of "holy of holies" had, in the past year, through his personal efforts, seen twenty-nine young men confess Christ. This example shows the great value of personal effort and contact.

There were 576 delegates present at the convention, and with all these workers thoroughly aroused to the importance of the great work to be done Kentucky will soon be in the first ranks.

There were six delegates from Meade county and still more from Breckenridge county, and all came home so full of enthusiasm that the Sunday-school will, no doubt, take on new life. The State Executive Committee, in recognition of the good work done in reaching a required standard, presented to all such counties a silk banner, on which is the inscription "By this sign conquer." Meade and Breckenridge counties each is the proud possessor of one of these banners and the county secretary of each county will take pleasure in exhibiting this trophy to all the schools in the county, as the schools did their part in helping to reach this standard.

Among those who attended the convention at Lexington from Breckenridge and Meade counties were: T. B. Henderson, Robert Bell, F. B. Coleman and wife, Mrs. Lola Parks, Misses Ermine Munford, and Blanche Jolly, C. C. Smith and daughter, Nellie, of Breckenridge county and Misses Eva Carrigan, Ethel Bannan, Ethel Fairleigh and Messrs. H. L. Bell, C. W. Lewis and ————Henderson, of Meade county.

Wedding at Webster. Webster, Ky., Aug. 25.—(Special.)—Mr. Hardin Pollock and Miss Tavia Chism were married here last Sunday at the residence of the bride's father, Wm. Chism, the Rev. J. G. Argabright officiating. They left immediately for their future home near Raymond.

young, narrow passage. This ended in a stairway fully a quarter of a mile from its beginning. Ascending this stairway one came to a secret panel through which, by pressing a spring, the interior of the door was reached. The location of the panel was in one of the recesses in the wall of the chapel, near the altar. It was in this chapel that Yette exchanged her role at tire for a loose gown weeks before, and the servant who saw her come from the door at an unearthly hour in the morning believed she had gone there to seek succor from the troubles which oppressed her.

Lorry was impatient to rush forth from his place of hiding and to end all suspense, but Quinox demurred. He begged the eager monarch to remain in the passage until the night of the 19th, when, all things going well, he might be so fortunate as to reach the princess without being seen. It was the secret hope of the guilty captain that his charge could be induced by the princess to return to the monastery to avoid complications. He promised to inform her highness of his presence in the underground room and to arrange for a meeting. The miserable fellow could not find courage to confess his disobedience to his trusting mistress. Many times during the day she had seen him hovering near, approaching and then retreating, and had wondered at a little at his peculiar manner.

And so it was that Lorry chafed and writhed through a long day of suspense and agony. Quinox brought to the little room some candles, food and bedding, but he utilized only the former. The hours went by and no summons called him to his side. What was to become of him? What was to be the end of this drama? What would the night, the morrow, bring about?

It was 9 o'clock in the evening when Quinox returned to the little room. The waiting one had looked at his watch a hundred times and run in and out up and down the passage in quest of the secret exit, had shouted aloud in the frenzy of desperation. "Have you seen her?" he cried, grasping the newcomer's hand. "I have, but before God, I could not tell her what I had done! Your visit will be a surprise, I fear a shock."

"Then how am I to see her? Fool! Am I to wait here forever?" "Have patience! I will take you to her tonight, and then, when the morrow morning she signs away the northern provinces, and her instructions are that she is not to be disturbed tonight. Not even will she see the Countess Dagmar after 9 o'clock. It breaks my heart to see the sorrow that abounds in the castle tonight. Her husband is not being alone, and Bassot, the new guard, has orders to admit no one to her apartments. He is ill, and I have promised that a substitute should relieve him. I'll do it. You are to be the substitute. Here is a part of an old uniform of mine, and here is a coat that belonged to Dagmar, who died in your arms. Please exchange the clothes you now have on for these. I apprehend no trouble in reaching her door, for the household is in gloom and the halls seem barren of life."

He threw the bundle on a chair, and Lorry at once proceeded to don the contents. In a very short time he was dressed in the eelkeeper's garments a neat fitting uniform of the royal guard. He was trembling violently, chilled to the bone with nervousness, as they began the ascent of the stairs leading to the chapel. The crisis in his life, he felt, was near at hand.

Under the stealthy hand of Quinox the panel opened, and they listened intently for some moments. There was no one in the dimly lighted chapel. They made their way to the door at the opposite end. Before unlocking the door the captain pointed to a lance which stood against the wall near by.

"Be quick," he said, "and be cautiously poised. A moment later they were in the broad hall, boldly striving to reach the distant stairway. Lorry had been instructed to proceed without the least sign of timidity. They passed several attendants in the hall and heard not a murmur. They entered a room with some one in an anteroom. As they neared the broad steps who should come tripping down but Harry Quinox. He too, you shall not read it. No one shall ever know what it contains."

She darted to the desk, snatched up the sheets of paper and held them over the waxed paper. He stood in the middle of the room, a feeling of intense desolation settling down upon him. How could he be so strong! Mirrors "Tomorrow night Quinox is to take you from the monastery and conduct

"There goes your hostage," said the captain grimly. It had required all of Lorry's self-possession to restrain the cry of joyful recognition. Up the stairs they went, setting several ladies and gentlemen coming down, and were soon before the apartments of the princess. A tall guard stood in front of the door.

"This is your relief, Bassot. You may go," said Quinox, and with a careless glance at the strange soldier the sick man trudged off down the hall, glad to seek his bed.

"Is she there?" whispered Lorry, dizzy and faint with expectancy. "Yes. This may mean your death and mine, sir, but you would do it. Will you explain to her how I came to play her false?"

"She shall know the truth, good friend."

"After I have gone twenty paces down the hall do you rap on the door. She may not admit you at first, but do not give up. If she bid you enter, ask your mission, enter quickly and close the door. It is unlocked. She may swoon or scream, and you must prevent either if possible."

"I shall return and you must go back to the passage."

"Never! I have come to save her and her country, and I intend to do so by surrendering myself this very night."

"I had hoped to dissuade you. But, sir, you cannot do so tonight. You forget that I had visited you here."

"True. I had hoped. Well, I'll go back with you, but tomorrow I am your prisoner, not your friend."

"Be careful," cautioned the captain as he moved away. Lorry feverishly tapped his knuckles on the panel of the door and waited with motionless heart for the response. It came not, and he retired, hardly a strange fear darting into his mind.

"Well? I have come from within, the voice he heard.

"Quinox has marked his next movement. He dashed open the door, sprang inside and closed it quickly. She was sitting before her easel, writing, and looked up, surprised and annoyed.

"I was not to be disturbed—oh—"

She staggered to her feet and was in his arms before the heavy door with a clamorous clatter had died away. Had he not supported her she would have dropped to the floor. Her hands, her face, were livid. Her breast was quivering, and there was the wildest terror in her eyes.

"My darling—my queen!" he cried passionately, "I have come to save you. Don't look at me like that! It is really I—I could not stay away—I could not permit this sacrifice of yours! Speak to me, my love. You love me, don't you? It is folly to dream of it even as a possibility. When you go from Graustark tomorrow night, you

"Am I awake?" she murmured, touching his face with her bewildered, questioning hands. "Is it truly you?" He smiled at her, but her joy was short-lived. An expression of terror came to her eyes, and there was agony in the fingers that clasped his arm. "Did you come here?" she cried. "It is madness! How and why came you to this room?"

He laughed like a delighted boy and hastily narrated the events of the past twenty-four hours, ending with the trick that gave him entrance to her room.

"And all this to see me?" she whispered. "To see you and to save you. I hear that Gabriel has been telling me every thing. It is another reason for my coming."

Sitting beside him on the divan, she told of Gabriel's visit and his dismissal, the outlook for the next day, and then sought to convince him of the happiness it afforded her to protect him from an undesired death. He obtained for Quinox the royal pardon and landed him to the skies. So ravishing were the moments, so ecstatic the sensations that possessed them, that neither thought of the consequences if he were to be discovered in her room by one of her guardsmen. He forgot the real import of his reckless visit into the castle.

What she commanded him to stand before her that she might see what manner of soldier he was. With a laugh, he leaped to his feet and stood before her—attention! She leaned back among the cushions and surveyed him through the glowing, impassioned eyes which slowly closed as if to shut out temptation.

"You are a perfect soldier," she said, her lashes parting ever so slightly. "No more perfect than you?" he cried. She remembered, with confusion, her own muscled arm, but it was not of him to remember it. He had not told her of his determination, and the task grew harder as he saw the sparkle glow brighter and brighter in her eyes.

"You are a brave soldier, then," she substituted. "It required courage to come to me, and I have not the heart of men ready to seize you at sight, a pack of bloodhounds."

"We passed people, but no one knew me. I will go to you are distressed over how it has happened. Yette, Yette, I will not give you up!" he cried, sinking to his knees before her.

"You must, you shall! You must go back to the monastery tonight! Oh, how I pray that you may reach it in safety! And you must leave this wretched country at once. Will you see if Quinox is outside the door? He is quick! I am mad with fear that you may be found here, that you may be taken before you can return to St. Valentine's."

He arose and stood looking down at the intense face, all aglow with the battle between temptation and solid guile as one of her guardsmen.

He forgot the real import of his reckless visit into the castle. What she commanded him to stand before her that she might see what manner of soldier he was. With a laugh, he leaped to his feet and stood before her—attention! She leaned back among the cushions and surveyed him through the glowing, impassioned eyes which slowly closed as if to shut out temptation.

The Masons barbecue was a splendid success in every way.

It is easy to make a success of any thing if you know how.

It's a mighty good thing for any town or community to be in touch with its railroad.

Cloverport closed a dead yesterday for another manufacturing plant Full particulars next week.

Now for the Centennial Celebration.
This will be a great event in the history of Cloverport

Breckenridge county never had a finer prospect for crops. Corn and tobacco is simply out of sight.

This edition of the News is a good paper to send to your friends. Extra copies only three cents, mailed to any address.

The pay train came in yesterday and dropped $4,000 or $5,000 in our midst as it does every month, besides about $10,000 in other parts of the country. The pay train is a welcome visitor.

Col. Edwin Forbes writes that he can furnish some old-time relics connected with the early days of Clover-port for our coming Centennial. He writes enthusiastically of the event and says we ought to have it by all means

No people on earth make a better showing than does Breckenridge county people. Sober industrious, fine looking, intelligent, cheerful, hospitable and all other qualities that go to make up an ideal American citizenship. We are proud of them. From the poorest to the richest. God bless them all.

The Masons of Bewleyville Lodge
No. 228 will give a barbecue at Irvington next Friday. The members of this lodge and the citizens in general were liberal patrons of the barbecue given at this place last week. They expect a large crowd from this town.
And they ought to have it. We advise everybody who can, to go. It is due them. We ought to be neigh-borly, help one another. Do unto others as you would have them do to you. It is a mighty good rule to live
by. It applies to barbecues as well as other things. Cloverport should send a large delegation to Irvington.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, they cannot reach diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness,
and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous services.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars

IS RUNNING THIS WEEK.

The Polk Packing Company's canning factory started up Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock and is in operation this week. The factory would have begun running Thursday but some trouble was had with the capping
fires.

Between sixty and seventy people are employed by the factory. This is about half a full house, as between 125 and 150 hands are needed. This will include seventy more women and girls, who will be employed as peelers.
Only none people will be employed provided a sufficient number can be secured in this vicinity. The report that twelve Creole women are coming from Nashville, Tenn. to work in the cannery seems to be unfounded.

Up to Tuesday morning 608 bushels of tomatoes had been received and 1,500 cans put up. The tomatoes are ripening fast and are being delivered in proper quantities to keep the cannery in regular operation.

BRING SUIT FOR WAGES.

Thirty-two former employees of the Patton brick-yard have brought suit against the Perfect Combustion Company of America, and the Central Lay Product Company, successors to the Patton Vitified Brick Company. The employees have put in claims for wages for labor performed at the Patton yard during the past summer.
All the claims amount to between $500 and $1,000. Three parties have filed their suits in the Breckenridge
Circuit Court, to be tried in the October term. They are Chas. E. Kell, for $210; David H. Swearns, Sr., $185; and Chas. Bohrer, $105. The claims of the other plaintiffs range from $4 to $50. Their suits have been filed in court in this city. Hal Murray, of this city, and Gus Brown, of Hardinsburg, are attorneys for the plain-

BIG MEETING OF BAPTISTS.

RESOLUTIONS ARE ADOPTED.

Hardinsburg, Ky., Aug. 25.—(Special.)—Prominent Baptists from all parts of the county held a meeting
at their church here last Monday.

The object of the meeting was to take such steps as were necessary to form an association which should include only Breckenridge county within its bounds. Their churches in this county are now members of Goshen Association, which includes parts of several counties; and the inconvenience in attending the yearly meetings together with the large increase in the membership, renders this step justifiable. Resolutions looking to that end were adopted unanimously, and the members of the churches who were present express the opinion that an association such as they wish will eventually be formed

Temple, on which he will build a one

ing twenty-two feet and will build a four-room brick office building.

Suicide Prevented.

The startling announcement that a preventive of suicide had been discovered will interest many. A run down system, or dependency invariably precedes suicide and something has been found that will prevent that condition, which makes suicide likely.

There is nothing so important in facing severe hot weather as a well organized digestive force. When the stomach properly digests nutritious food it creates new, rich blood; and fortifies the system against exhaustion.

Do You Enjoy
What You Eat?

You can eat whatever and whenever you like if you take Kodol. By the use of this remedy disordered digestion and diseased stomachs are so completely restored to health and the full performance of their functions naturally that such foods as would be one into a double-bow-knot are eaten without even a "rumbling" and with a positive pleasure and enjoyment. And what is more—these foods are assimilated and transformed into the kind of nutriment that is appropriated by the blood and tissues.

Kodol is the only digestant or combination of digestants that will digest all classes of food. In addition to this fact, it contains an assimilative form, the greatest known tonic
and reconstructive properties.

Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all disorders arising therefrom.

broke down after hearing the verdict
and then shook hands with each juror.

Webster makes Tobacco Rehandler.

Webster, Ky., Aug. 25.—(Special)—
This town and community needs a rehandler of tobacco. Two hundred or three hundred headstamps of a splendid grade of tobacco could be purchased in this vicinity every year.

Strength and vigor come of good food, duly digested. "Force" is ready-to-serve wheat and barley food,
adds no burden but sustains, nourishes,
invigorates.

Scrofula
Few are entirely free from it.
It may develop so slowly as to cause
little if any disturbance during the whole period of childhood.
It may then produce irregularity of the stomach and bowels, dyspepsia, catarrh,
and marked tendency to consumption
before manifesting itself in any serious eruption or granular swelling.
It is best to be sure that you are quite free from it, and for its complete eradication you can rely on

Success of Cloverport Boy.
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Dean, of Chicago, Ill., who have been visiting his grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo.
Gregory, returned home the middle of last week. Mr. Dean, who was born and reared in this city, is making a success as a business man in Chicago.
He is now general manager for the Nix & Cheung Gum Manufacturing
Co., which began business about six months ago. Mr. Dean's chewing gum has been supplied by his Cloverport friends, who put a little of it in an excellent flavor. He has succeeded in booking a number of large orders for his company.

Mr. Dean was formerly with Sears
& Roebuck of Chicago. He visited Cloverport just after the big fire of 1901 and intends to be in this vicinity
again in about six months.

Save the Children.
Ninety-nine of every one hundred diseases that children have are due to disorders of the stomach, and these disorders are all caused by indigestion.
Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is just as good for children as it is for adults.
Children thrive on it. It keeps the little stomach sweet and encourages the growth and development. Mr.
Henry Carter, 705 Central St., Nashville, Tenn., says: "My little boy is now three years old and has been suffering from indigestion ever since he was born. I have had the best doctors in Nashville, but failed to do him any good. After using one bottle of Kodol he is a well baby. I recommend it to all sufferers." Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by All Druggists.

Taylor Denies Confessions.
Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 21.—The reading of the deposition of former Governor W. S. Taylor, which was commenced yesterday afternoon in the Powers case, was resumed today.
Taylor denies the confessions of Culton and Yontse in detail and says he did not know Tallow Dick Coults, Hockersmith or Cecil. He never saw Jim Howard until two weeks after the assassination of Goebel. He never heard Dr. Johnson express a desire to kill Goebel. He admits writing a pardon for Powers
when the latter decided to leave Frankfort. He did this at the request of Powers' friends, and because he believed that Powers had no connection with the killing.

Mr. Morris Allen, of South Fork Ky., says she has prevented attacks of cholera morbus by taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tonic
when she felt an attack coming on.
Such attacks are usually caused by indigestion and the Tablets are just what is needed to cleanse the stomach and ward off the approaching attack.
Attacks of bilious colic may be prevented in the same way. For sale by

Try for Health
222 South Peoria St.,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 7, 1902.
Eight months ago I was so ill
that I was compelled to sit or lie down nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset
that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it to be a serious case
and others said it was consumption.
It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from St. Louis and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui.
I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that I saved my life. I believe many women could save much suffering if they but knew of its value.

Wine of Cardui
Don't you want freedom from pain? Take Wine of Cardui and make one supreme effort to be well. You do not need to be a weak, helpless sufferer. You can have a woman's health and do a woman's work in life. Why not secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today?

CHURCH WITH A FUTURE.

St. Rose's Catholic Church, Established in 1857, is Free of Debt and Will Make Modern Improvements.

HAS BELOVED PASTOR IN FATHER BREY.

The purpose of this sketch is to show the growth of St. Rose's Roman Catholic church, since its establishment in this city in the year 1857, to its present standing under the charge of Father Celestine Brey, it is a credit before it, as it is free of debt. All make several modern improvements and has a pastor beloved by his congregation and popular among other denominations. These excellent conditions are due to the several pastors of the church and the members of the congregation during the early history of the church and in recent years. Especially is much credit due Father Brey and the present congregation, as they have liquidated the entire debt of the church.

In the year 1857 the first church in St. Rose's parish was built by Father Power. It was too small for the growing congregation, composed principally of Irish families who worked at the famous canal coal mines at Victoria, and was replaced by a larger and more beautiful church, in 1857, by Father Higgins. The first church, a small brick year, at Ellicott City, Maryland, two years, and then graduated at St. Mary's University, Baltimore, Maryland, in 1865, after taking a five year's course. On July 31, 1865, he was ordained a priest by Bishop McCloskey, of the Louisville diocese and said his first mass at Whitesville. His first charge was at Fancy Farm, Graves county, where he remained four months. He spent one year at St. Mary's, Fenwick, Washington county, and then returned to Fancy Farm. After fourteen months more at Fancy Farm he was appointed to his present charge by Bishop McCloskey. When he first came he had charge of the old church at St. Merino, near Irvington. He built a new church and then Father Meyer took charge, to be succeeded by Father Zoeller. He now has charge of St. Rose's with a membership of about sixty families; Immaculate Conception, at Hawesville, twenty-five families; and St. Columbus, at Lewisport, twenty families. The order of services is as follows: St. Rose's, Cloverport, 1st Sunday, Mass and sermon, 8:30 a. m., 3rd Sunday, Mass and sermon.

another call. Aside from being popular among those of his own faith he has many friends among the members of the other denominations. Taking interest and an active part in all movements for the public good, subscribing stock in new enterprises and having a pleasant word and smile for everybody. Father Brey has made himself popular and admired to a degree, which as one factor, argues well for the welfare of his three parishes.

Another "Shiner" Landed.

Ben Keizer, an old man, was arrested in Hardin county last week by Deputy United States Marshal George Gilliland on the charge of operating a still without license, and taken to Owensboro. Deputy Gilliland arrested him after waiting 12 hours for him near his house for two days and nights. When he finally did come to the house at about 2 o'clock Thursday morning the officer was lying near the door. As soon as the man entered the house the marshal broke the front door down and started in. A large dog attacked him and bit his hand severely before he could knock the animal off. Keizer's trial takes place this week before Commissioner Lindsey. It is said that the Louisville officers have been after him for years.

Open Campaigns Next Month.

Gov. J. C. W. Beckham will open his campaign for re-election by the Democratic party at Winchester on September 5. Col. Morris B. Belknap, the Republican nominee for Governor, will open his campaign at Munfordsville, Hart county, September 12.

The following people came up from Owensboro last week and are now at the Tar Springs for a two weeks' stay: Misses Madeline Rodman, Charlotte Mattingly, Johnnie Mae Turner, Adele Payne and Madeline P. E. Payne, Thos. O'Brian and J. A. Manning.

Big Tomato and Potato.

A tomato and an Irish potato, both of unusual size, can be seen at the News office. The tomato weighs two pounds and was raised by John Dean in his tomato field below town. The Irish potato weighs 41 ounces and was raised by O. B. Mattingly, of this city.

Cause of Beautiful Sunsets.

For the past several evenings the sunsets have been the most beautiful ever seen, and admirers of nature have spent the hours of evening watching them. They are alike all over this half of the earth, and it is the general opinion of astronomers that we are now passing through a trail left by the comet, which was visible three weeks ago. The fine color is thought to be debris from the comet's tail. The same spectacle was witnessed after the comets of 1874 and 1882.

Potent Pill Pleasure.

The pills that are potent in their action and pleasant in effect are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. W. S. Phillips, of Albany, Ga., says "During a bilious attack I took one. MISS ELLA BOURGE

One of the Beautiful Women of Chicago relates an experience.

Miss ELLA BOURGE, of 47 Ashland Boulevard, Chicago, Ill., wrote to Dr. Pierce recently, as follows:

"I am glad to be able to testify to the public what your medicine has done for me. I had been troubled with catarrh for a number of years; had used many other remedies but failed to find any change and was about to give up all hope. I at last tried your medicine and found it just what it is represented to be. I used a number of bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and will say that I have not felt as well in several years. My headaches, which had become a common occurrence, have entirely disappeared, as well as the burning sensation I endured through my eyes and nose. My voice has wonderfully improved since using your medicine; I would not be without it, and I shall forever give praise to your worthy medicine."

PUBLIC SINGERS EVERYWHERE

Recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for coughs, nose and throat troubles. It cures Bronchitis, Laryngitis, Weak Lungs, Bleeding from Lungs, public speaker's Sore Throat, Hoarseness, and Suppression of Loss of Voice. This vegetable tonic has ingredients which allay a cough, and at the same time it purifies the blood, thereby getting at the seat of the difficulty, for a cold or catarrh is produced by a stagnation of the blood supply. The "Discovery" purifies the blood by eliminating the corrupt and poisonous accumulations which are the source of many diseases. It gives new life and strength.

E. D. LOE, of Princeton, Mo., sends his sincere thanks to Dr. Pierce, as follows: "About one year ago I took what our home doctor called La Grippe, and was bothered with a dry hacking cough, also bowel trouble, all summer. People of my acquaintance said I was going fast with quick consumption. Had weighed one hundred and eighty pounds before having Grippe, but had become very thin when I commenced to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. After taking five bottles the bowel trouble was completely overcome and my cough was gone."

Sick people, especially those suffering from disease in chronic form, are invited to consult Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., by letter, free.

GIVEN AWAY. No charge is made for Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advisor. It is sent FREE on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing ONLY. It is the best modern medical work, containing more than one thousand large pages of valuable advice and information. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers.

All Weeds Must Go.

The Board of Health notified Marshal Willis last week to order all property holders to cut the weeds on their premises. Most of the property holders have complied with the order and the city has had the weeds cut on the streets and sidewalks.

Taken with Cramps.

Wm. Kirmse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicine—Elder, Iowa, Argus.

This remedy never fails. Keep it in your home, it may save life. For sale by Short & Haynes.

In Honor of Miss Moorman.

Miss Sue Roberts Watkins entertained Monday evening with a dance at her home on Seventh street in honor of the many visitors in the city and her guest, Miss Margaret Moorman, of Cloverport. The lawn was decorated with Japanese lanterns and a platform was arranged for dancing. Jackson's band was in attendance. The visitors were never so popular as on this evening. Refreshments were served at a late hour.—Owensboro Inquirer.

11 Death Penalty.

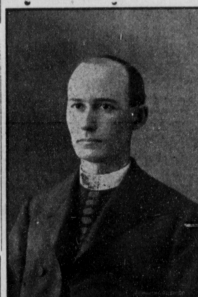

A little thing sometimes results in death. Thus a mere scratch, insignificant cut or puny boil has paid the death penalty. It is wise to have Bucklen's Arnica Salve ever handy. ST. ROSE'S CATHOLIC CHURCH structure, was called St. Malachi but the new frame church was dedicated as St. Rose's church. The first resident pastor was Father Jno. Sheridan. This church and parsonage was destroyed by fire in February, 1894, but, owing to the energetic administration of Father Nichols, October 21 of the same year witnessed the dedication of the present house of worship, a picture of which is shown herein. Father Brey, the present pastor, took charge of St. Rose's Nov. 1, '97. Before him was the late Father M. M. Carroll, of Boston. When Father Brey took charge the debt of the church was $2,600. He at once devised a way to pay it. By annual subscriptions on the part of the members the debt was reduced as follows: Jan. 1, '90, $2,300; Jan. 1, 1890, $1,900; Jan. 1, 1901, $1,500; Jan. 1, 1902, $900. On Jan. 1, 1903, the remaining $900 had been paid and the subscriptions of last year have been duplicated, the money obtained in this manner to be used in improving the church. Only a week or so ago Father Brey let a contract with Stratton & Stertege, of Louisville, for a Monarch No. 3 furnace to be placed in the basement of the church. The excavations for the furnace are now being made. After this improvement is made the woodwork on the outside of the church will be repainted, the woodwork on the inside will be varnished, and the altar will be painted white. Since Father Brey has had charge of the church new vessels for the altar, candles, new chalice, ciborium and one ostensorium have been bought. Father Brey was born May 6, 1869 at Whitesville, Ky. In September, 1884, he entered St. Mary's College. He was here two years, at Bardonia College one year, at Cecilian one

Mrs. Angermier, her daughters, Susan and Willie, and a gentleman friend, of Louisville, were guests of Mrs. Taylor Haynes Sunday, who invited several friends to meet them.

"The way to a man's heart is through his stomach," an old saying meaning that to win a man you must feed him well.

If this is not true it is still true in another sense that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. Many persons imagine that they have heart disease when it is only indigestion.

This is how it comes about. The stomach distended by gas, crowds the heart and gives the feeling that the trouble is in the heart.

If you don't know that you have heart trouble, try using Walther's Peptonized Port and see if it does not relieve you.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for over thirty years. It has kept my scalp free from dandruff and has prevented my hair from turning gray."—Mrs. F. A. Soule, Billings, Mont.

If your druggist cannot supply you, send us one dollar and we will express you a bottle. Be sure and give the name of your nearest express office. Address, J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.
